

Golf orientation camp concludes

Governor and First Lady with participants of golf Orientation Camp at Raj Bhavan Golf Course.

ITANAGAR, June 6: There is every possibility that tomorrow we may have the second Tiger Wood from Arunachal Pradesh, said Governor Gen JJ Singh, while addressing the valedictory of the Golf Orientation Camp today at Raj Bhavan Golf Course. Expressing his hope that all the participants have benefited from the camp, Gen Singh, said, Arunachal Pradesh, where there is very less facilities for sports, the trainees had the opportunity to be coached by expert and famous professional coach Ali Sher and his assistant Shyam Lal.

It is the first step, Gen Singh pointed, if we work hard and dedicated in our approach, we may have players from Arunachal Pradesh in bigger circuit, who can and will earn names for the State and Country.

Speaking on the occasion, Sports and Youth Affairs Assistant Director Ramesh Linggi thanked the Governor and the State first lady for their initiatives and motivations in organizing the event, which is first of its kind.

Indian Golf Union coach Ali Sher also spoke on the occasion.

The Camp, which started on June 2, was teed off by the Secretary, Sports and Youth Affairs D.S.

Pandit. 51 participants, including school children, army personnel and senior government officials took part in it, organized by the department of Sports and Youth Affairs, Arunachal Pradesh.

The trainees were divided into three groups; Kameng, Siang and Lohit.

Students from Thirteen schools attended the camp including participants from Manipur and Meghalaya.
