This, she said, will facilitate access of the Loin Loom products to international markets. She appreciated the endeavour of the First Lady of the State, who has, with perseverance, learnt loin loom weaving and has been trying to initiate concrete action for the strengthening of loin loom which, inter alia, is State’s cultural heritage.

The First Lady of the State, while apprising the minister of the problems faced by the local weavers, requested her to start cotton and silk Banks in Arunachal Pradesh. She mentioned that to preserve the age-old loin loom tradition in its pristine form, the local weavers must have the facility at hand to collect their thread requirement.
